The senate proposed to have the Students Organization at the University of Nairobi, SONU to be reformed in a meeting held on April 27th, 2016.

The proposed changes include:

- Put a term limit for executive positions so that many students get opportunity to lead.
- Reduce stakes involved or benefits to office bearers so as to reduce tension between the winning and losing candidates.
- Review the sources of finances to SONU and regulate the level of campaign expenses.
- Reduce the role of incumbent office bearers in the management of electoral process.

- Introduce minimum qualifications for candidates in order to promote leadership with good academic and moral standing.
- Review the voting and tallying process.
- Review membership and membership fees.

The objective of the proposal is to make the student organization geared towards accountability and meeting the student needs and the University community.

In a press release signed by the Vice Chancellor, Prof. Peter Mbithi said that these are the drastic measures that the Senate resolved to take to ensure a reviewed SONU.
